To know what we are dealing with, first you need to know IPv4 and IPv6 IPv4 is an IP protocol (with the format similar to 192.. But with IPv6 added in, they find it impossible to talk to each other and thus the network connection is a problem.. Most of us are on the IPv4 technology As there are more and more netizens and less and less available IPv4 addresses, IPv6 (with the format similar to 2001:DB8:0:0:8:0:417A) which brings in an uncountable number of addresses, is introduced.. Below is a list of drivers that may be suitable for your device With the different devices, they can have the same driver, it's because they all use the same chip manufacturer. Lexmark X1100 Series Driver For Mac High Sierra
